

Life Tree

You are the seeds from which great change can go grow.

Wherever the wind takes you, stay true to yourself.

When you land, plant those roots and commit.

Give life your all.

Keep reaching for the sky even when it is dark.

When there is sun, absorb it for a rainy day.

Because there will be rainy days,

And they will only help to grow you stronger.

So when you lose your leaves, don't worry,

Some things have to end.

There will always be another season.

Another beginning.

So to this beginning...

...Good luck!
